Hon. William M. Colmer, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Colmer:

Your letter of July 27 with attached copy of a letter directed to you by Col. D. A. Raymond under date of July 25 has been received. The letter by Col. Raymond contains some statements and implications that should be clarified for your information. This is in defense of the many citizens of this area who are suffering the injustice of being forced by the Federal Government to give up their land and homes at prices far below what it will cost to replace them.

In paragraph 2 reference is made to the "complaints of certain of the Landowners". This statement may be interpreted that only a few of the Landowners have complained. I assure you that complaint and dissatisfaction has been expressed by very nearly, if not all, of the Landowners.

Mrs. Sylvester Benigno and her sister, Mrs. J. P. Chiniche, attended funeral services last Thursday in Bogalusa, La., for their cousin, Mrs. Catherine Guagliardo. Also going over with them were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Di Lorenzo, their son Adam Di Lorenzo and daughter Mrs. Louis La Rosa of Gulfport.

Mrs. Jessie Sims of Laurel, Miss., was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Blaize at their Felicity Street home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grosz, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Norton and sons Gregory and Gerard of New Orleans arrived last Saturday to spend the remainder of the summer at their home on Felicity Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Swoop Hillery and children, Mary, Isabel Swoop, Julian Swoop and Andrew Hillery, who have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hillery returned to New Orleans Sunday to take possession of their new home on State Street Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Doerflin spent Friday in Empire, La. They enjoyed a fishing trip and report a catch of 50.

Mrs. Louise Spencer is visiting in New Orleans with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ross.

not entirely one hundred percent of the people involved.

In paragraph 3 reference is made to the position of the appraisers of the substantial value of the land in the Buffer Zone after the imposition of the easement. It is generally agreed among all men of sound business judgment in this area that the only possible value would be in those tracts with a present growth of saleable timber. A more remote possibility of value would be in mineral deposits, the development of which is most unlikely.

In the early weeks of negotiations of the area were forced into a very reluctant position on advancing loans on the property involved because it was soon realized that, regardless of common knowledge of property values in the area, no one could make even a wild guess at what he would be paid because of the wide inequalities in the offers made by the Corps of Engineers.

We do appreciate the statement in paragraph 3 that consideration will be given to the request of landowners in the Buffer Zone to sell in fee simple to the government. We feel that, if the offers made for these properties prove to be fair and equitable, this is the only democratic approach to this problem.

Paragraph 4 refers to allegations of in-equalities noted in the article published in the New Orleans States-Item, which I sent you. I assure you that, excepting a few misquotes, this article is entirely factual. For instance, the Colonel mentions in paragraph 6 the comparison brought out by the article of an 80 acre tract and a 40 acre tract. His relation of the comparison is very incomplete. He failed to mention that the 80 acre tract, in addition to the old home which was in good condition, had on it a new home of concrete block construction completed in 1961 at the cost of approximately $8000.00. The old home is constructed of long leaf yellow pine and would probably stand another century if a good roof were kept on it. This property has a good artesian well (value $2,000) and both homes have inside plumbing, provision for sewerage, electric power and telephone connections. The crop and timber potential is fully on par with the 40 acre tract. The beautiful setting of these two homes in an isolated, but not inconvenient location would increase the value to many prospective buyers had the property been placed on the market.

The house on the 40 acre tract in this comparison was said to be the oldest house in Gainesville. It was unpainted, had no electric connections, no inside plumbing and was in very poor state of repair. It did contain a good amount of good timber as I observed when the house was torn down to be moved a few days ago. There was no artesian well on this property, but a simple shallow well with a pitcher pump.

For the 80 acre tract with two good homes, all modern conveniences, artesian well etc., the offer by the Corps of Engineers was $16,500. For 40 acres with one old home and no conveniences, they paid $17,250. None of us think that the owner of the 40 acre tract got too much, in fact possibly not enough. But it is the unequal and unfair offer made on the 80 acre tract in comparison that we are not able to understand.

Please bear in mind that the above is only one of many such comparisons that we can make in this land acquisition program to this date. Mr. Colmer, any man with just average judgment and common sense can see these inequalities and injustices. We do not think it possible that there is any dishonesty involved in this program, but that the chaotic state of affairs is simply due to inefficiency and failure to appraise the properties with careful consideration of comparative values and lack of consideration on the part of the government of what it is going to cost these people to buy and get relocated on a property of equal value to that the government is forcing them to sell and vacate.

Reference is in paragraph 4 to the fact that the Corps of Engineers is using qualified land appraisers from the State of Mississippi to make the appraisals. We were advised some time ago through a source generally considered to be very reliable that these contract appraisers are required to justify their appraisals on a scale of values. In other words, assuming our information is correct, in spite of the employment of fellow Mississippians as contract appraisers, the property values remain completely at the personal opinion of the Corps of Engineers appraisers, the Corps of Engineers will adjust their homes and land.

Paragraph 6 states, "without a detailed breakdown on each piece of land, to simply cite lump sums is rational of his making this statement is understandable in view of the fact that the negotiators refuse to break down or itemize the appraisals to any of the landowners. That, they say, is against their rules and they advise that the only way the landowner can learn the appraisal on his property is to take the matter to the courts. Going into the courts is exactly what we do not want to do. We feel that the offers should be fair, just and equitable on the first negotiation. The people are now resigned to the fact that they are going to be forced to give up their land and homes. We are only asking our own Federal Government for the appraisals to be efficiently made with careful consideration to comparative values, and that the offers be made with full consideration of the fair market value of the property PLUS the cost to the property owner of getting relocated on a property of equal value. Your efforts on behalf of the

THE LORD'S WORK

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

CALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of a better and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The dignity of willing labor is one of the principles which Christianity has established among us. It is a natural by-product of a faith whose founder was the Carpenter of Nazareth, whose first adherents were fishermen of Galilee.

Those who are eager to serve God and their fellow men find rich opportunities in the life of the Church. There are tasks for a man's hands, for his voice, for his pen, for his mind. There are needs that our offerings cannot supply... challenges that call for the talents and time of earnest men and women.

That friendly church which inspires us on Sunday is busy with the Lord's work all week. That man in the next pew is finding new happiness in willing Christian service. Are you?

HOME
NOTES

Young married couples of the day when they'll be home of their own. Add to them good financial planning, family spending and good practices and the house can be a reality.

Buying a house is the largest expenditure that most people will make. Even so-called "part income" as savings for a lot and making the down payment. Then they usually secure for which they'll repay with income.

Of course, home ownership is always best. However, some who might benefit from ownership never get to buy because they can't save enough money to buy a lot and down payment. Although some of down payments has decreased somewhat, the price of a house at any time, it'll take stock of your present financial situation. That is one of the steps in financial planning. Make a good look at how you're spending your money. Reduce it that you could reduce in some areas so as to have some money to save for your house.

Sometimes better home practices, such as reducing waste, better following health rules can make it possible for you to save.

DISTRICT 8, HIGHWAY
PATROL CHIEF PRAISES
SAFETY RECORD

A special letter of commendation was made public today by Chief of Patrol Dave Gayden. The letter commended Inspector Marion Fulk and the men of District 8 for their reduction in traffic fatalities.

District 8 is composed of George, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River and Stone counties.

In part, the letter from Chief Gayden said:

"I have just finished reading the accident summary for the first six months of this year and the records show you have 12 less fatalities this year over the same period last year.

"The purpose of this letter is to offer my sincere thanks and congratulations to you and your men for this fine record.

"Congratulations and keep up the good work."

To call attention to the enviable record set by the District copies of the letter have also been sent to Governor Ross R. Barnett and Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong.

FARMERS URGED TO
CONSERVATION

Farmers who have received approval of projects to be carried out under the 1962 Agricultural Conservation Program were reminded today that they must report performance of the approved practices in order to qualify for cost-share assistance. Tommy R. Shaw, Chairman of the Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, points out that "New" participants, particularly - who have not been doing conservation work on their land in recent years - may overlook the fact that ACP cost-share assistance is not automatic just because the work was approved earlier in the year. Performance of the practice must be completed and reported to the ASCS county office by the date shown on the notice of approval.

If a farmer receives approval for a practice and then finds that he is unable to carry it out, he should report this to the ASCS county office. Mr. Shaw explained. This may enable the committee to approve another practice for him or some other farmer in the county. If materials or services have been furnished to the farmer for a practice which he cannot complete, the farmer should arrange with the ASCS county office for your new home.

For ideas on saving and spending money, ask your home agent for three publications: Publication 446, Making Money Grow; Publication 431, Skill in Buying and Publication 420, Make the Best of What You Have.

CHANGE FOUND IN
TYPE OF BACTERIA
CAUSING MASTITIS

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. - A study made by the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station reveals a change in the type of bacteria causing most of the mastitis in dairy cows.

During the 1940's about 90 percent of all mastitis was caused by various strains of streptococcal bacteria. Use of antibiotic treatments available to dairymen, however, has changed this picture in recent years.

Results of the present study have shown that only occasional cows are infected with streptococci and that the majority of the cases are caused by various staphylococci. This presents the dairymen a serious problem since most staphylococci are resistant to the usual antibiotics available for treatment.

A survey of 458 cows as shown that of the 632 quarters tested 72% showed staphylococcal organisms present. There were 360 quarters or 59% which contained organisms capable of destroying blood cells, most of which were staph.

Work is in progress at present to develop a treatment which can eliminate staphylococcal organisms from the udders of cows. Dr. H. J. Bearden and professor F. D. Cohenour are engaged in this work at Mississippi State University. They report very encouraging results have been obtained in four herds. However additional research must be done to determine whether the treatment material is eliminated in the milk following treatment and if so what the effects may be.
